WHAT IS TAP? Since its inception by W.W. (Walt) and Elspeth Rostow in 1991, The Austin Project (TAP) has worked to strengthen families, improve education, and support early literacy. TAP's current focus is on the importance of Family Stabilization as a key to student success, Parent Engagement as vital to school success, and Neighborhood Participation in schools as a means to revitalizing community. We work to coordinate community resources so that children are physically and mentally healthy—essential prerequisites to learning.
